

Legal notices :

The use of this site is reserved for the user's strictly personal use. Any reproduction or representation of this site, either in its entirety or partly, for any other purpose on any medium, is prohibited without the express prior authorization of Orange Cyberdefense. The information and data contained in this site are general information and data which have no contractual value. These general conditions as well as the information and data contained in this site are subject to change without notice. In addition, the characteristics and availability of the products and services mentioned in this website are valid only for Metropolitan France. Orange Cyberdefense cannot be held liable for hypertext links implemented within this site to other sites and, in general, to any existing resources on the Internet. The implementation of a hypertext link to the Malware Cleaner Console administration portal site may only be made subject to the express prior authorization of Orange Cyberdefense.